Stories Told

100 - Elder Brook P. Hales spoke of his son who was called to serve in the France Paris Mission. The overcoat the son wanted was not in stock in the size he needed but the store promised to send it to him before he left the Missionary Training Center. Elder Hales' son did not try the coat on when he received it but packed it in his suitcase instead. Months later as winter set in he realized the coat was too small. Tell the rest of the story.

ANSWER - Elder Hales deposited money in his son's bank account so he could purchase a new coat that fit and told his son to give the other coat away. His son later wrote that he was able to give it to a missionary who had been praying for a warmer coat. This other missionary was a convert and only had his mother and the missionary who baptized him supporting him on his mission.

200 - Elder Brook P. Hales told the story of Patricia Parkinson who was born with normal eyesight. At age 7 she began to go blind. At age 11 she permanently lost her eyesight. At age 10 Pat was scheduled to have a medical procedure to address her diminishing eyesight. Her parents had always told her what would happen in terms of her medical care but for some reason they did not tell her about this particular procedure. When her parents did tell her, Pat was a mess. She ran to the other room but came back later. What did she tell her parents? ANSWER - "Let me tell you what. I know it. God knows it and you might as well know it too. I'm going to be blind the rest of my life."

300 - President Russell M. Nelson told about visiting Paradise, CA (USA) after a devastating fire destroyed the community. Who did President Nelson meet and what was his story? ANSWER - He met a police officer, John, who worked fifteen hours rescuing people. What terrified John the most was this all-consuming question, "Where is my family?" He was later able to learn that his family had evacuated safely.

400 - When Ivan, the older brother of a 16-year-old Juan Pablo Villar, came home and announced he was going to serve a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, into which he had been baptized just a year earlier, Juan Pablo felt admiration for him. Months later, when Juan Pablo took the opportunity to visit his missionary brother, he was surprised by how different it was from what he imagined. Not a member of the Church himself, Juan Pablo had no idea what to expect when it came to spending the day with a missionary. How many hours did Juan Pablo spend with his missionary brother? ANSWER - Elder Villar spent 10 hours following Ivan and his companion as they walked the streets greeting people, knocking on doors and teaching people about Jesus Christ.

500 - Elder Kyle S. McKay shared about Emily, who struggled with substance abuse. Tell her story. ANSWER - Her addictions held Emily captive for years. Emily carefully concealed her problem especially after she became a wife and mother. One minute she was going through a routine medical exam and the next she was being transported by ambulance to an inpatient treatment facility. That night, while alone, desperate, and pressed down with anxiety and fear, she knelt in prayer and poured her soul out to God. Immediately there came over Emily a wondrous calm, courage, assurance, and love. Emily's recovering took months and months. Because of God's goodness she was able to go to the temple and be sealed to her husband and children.

Prophets & Apostles

100 - Elder Neil L. Andersen said, "If we pick and choose what we accept in the _____, we cloud our eternal view, putting too much importance on our experience here and now." Fill in the blank. ANSWER - Family Proclamation
